The Union Depot line is at present building a Carondelet extension to their line, coming south over Virginia and Michigan avenues. The work progressed very rapidly until Bates street was reached, end then the workmen began to hesitate and the property owners got an inside tip that Mr. Scullin intended to run the road east on Dover street and south on Michigan avenue over two blocks of very good residence property where he had no permit to ran. To prevent this Mr. Simon, one of the parties most interested, filed a protest with Mayor Walbridge. The following day Mr. Scullin applied for as pecial permit to change the route of the road, but discovered he was one day too late to get the change through without a fight. Since then has made two appointments to meet Mr. simon and Mr. Sheppard of the real estate firm of Ryan & Sheppard, but has failed to keep them.

SILVERMAN FAILS.

One of the Best Known Private Bank ers in Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 .- Lazarus Silverman. well-known private banker, suspended this orning. His liabilities are $500,000, with assets in excess of that amount and $6,000 cash

Silverman, besides being a private banker. was one of the largest operators in North-western iron properties in Chicago. He was interested to a considerable extent in the Schlesinger mining system, the recent embarrassment of which, it was reported to-day, helped to his failure. Silverman has popularly ranked as a millionaire. At the bank it was said Mr. Silverman is in New Silverman's failure, although an important one, was not a complete surprise. It has been understood he was hard up for ready money and he was generally supposed to have ample assets, but of the slow sort. The bank did not open at all to-day. A notice was posted on the door saying:

Payment suspended for to-day on account of the trigency of the money market No assignment was made and a representa lve of the house claimed the trouble was only temporary. Mr. Silverman was in-formed by wire last night of the pending roubles and will reach Chicago to-night. Other bankers estimate his deposits at $600,000. The depositors are for the most part Jewish dealers, engaged in small bustness ventures. So far as is known no large concerns are involved. Besides the deposit account the liabilities will not exceed $100,000 or $200,000 and few estimates place the debts above $1,000,000. They will probably fall below that. Against this liability account, Silverman has assets bearing a face value of nearly $2,000,000. A large part of his property is in mines. It is estimated the shape to be available for realization.

Since June 15 the bank has been drawn upo heavily by depositors. A few days ago the situation grew critical. The cash reserve had practically disappeared and collateral could not be turned into cash. Mr. Silverman other Eastern cities to secure aid. During his absence the situation During his absence the situation grew worse. Last night word was received from the Commercial National Bank, through which Silverman cleared, that checks would encounter difficulty. A conference between Nr. Silverman's manager and his attorneys was arranged and it was decided to suspend. No legal action was taken and the institution, pending Silverman's return, stood today at the mercy of creditors, unprotected by assignee or receiver.

The Silverman Bank was organized in the 50s and has been conducted until the present without change of name or management.

Berschmann Admits His Guilt and Says He Spent the Money for Liquor-His Wife's Death Drove Him to Drink-President Eidenhorn Discusses the Embessiement and Tells How It Was Discovered.

Nicholas N. Herschmann, cashier of the Consolidated Steel and Iron Co., 1985 Papin street, is locked up in the holdover at the Four Courts on a charge of embezzing $1,000 of his em-Courts ployers' money. He was arrested this morning by Detectives Friese and Fitz-gerald, and shortly after noon a warrant was issued, charging him as above. Though he is nominally charged with the embezzlement of $1,000, to the offers he confessed that his peculations will probably amount to about $7,000. He makes o attempt to deny his guilt and claims that the money has all been spent in wine and DISCOVERY OF THE DEPALCATION. The defalcation was not discovered until s few days ago, when the officers of the com pany becoming dissatisfied at the man ner in which Herschmann neglecte in which Herschmann neglected his business, began to overlook his books preparatory to placing another man in his position. In doing so they discovered that a number of faise entries had been made. Herschmann was accused of misappropriating the funds and at once acknowledged the thefts. He said that he had been taking money whenever he he had been taking money whenever he needed it since January last. The books have not yet been thoroughly gone over and no accurate estimate of the actual total can be obtained.

HERSCHMANN ADMITS HIS GUILT. When seen in the holdover this morning Herschmann at first refused to talk of the "I don't want you reporters to give me any song and dance on this thing," he said. porters to give me any song and dance on this thing," he said. "It's bad enough as it is, God knows, without making it any worse."

When assured that any statement he made would be correctly reported, he unbent to some extent, and consented to give answers to some questions, declining others. "The explanation of all this is very simple," he said. "Drink did it all. My wife died last January, and like a — fool I took to drink, and I have been drunk ever since. Of course, I needed money to keep up my spreand whenever I ran short I would go to the office and take some, making a faise entry to hide the fact. Honestly, I did not know what I was doing, and I have not the slightest idea how much I have taken altogether."

"Bid you play the races or indulge in any other form of dissipation, except drinking?"

"No; drink did it all. I was terribly cut up over the loss of my wife, and tried to drown my sorrow in drink. The last two months I have been trying to sober up, but instead of going to a drag store I took my bracers at a saloon. It was whisky all the time and it appeared I could not drink enough of it."

"When were your peculiations first discovered?"

"I haven't the slightest idea. William Edenborn, the President of the company "When were your peculiations first discovered?"

"I haven't the slightest idea. William Edenborn, the President of the company, has been trying to sober me up for the past four days, but this morning was the first time I recovered my senses properly. He accused me of embezzlement, and I acknowledged it at once."

"Do you think the matter will be settled in the courts?"

"No, I guess my friends will put up the amount. I could have borrowed it easily enough myself had I ever got sufficiently enough myself had I ever got sufficiently sober to realize my position and go home."

Herschmann is a gentlemahly looking man, 33 years old, with a decided tendency to induge in profanity. He takes his present position fairly philosophical, aided by a good cigar. Should he get out he declares he will never touch drink again, and claims that since becoming properly sober he has no further desire for whisky.
When being locked up he told Detective Freese that he would ennihilate any reporter who attempted to interview him. He boarded at the Hotel Rozier, Thirteenth and Olive streets.

PRESIDENT EIDENBORN TALKS. President Eldenborn of the Con-solidated Steel and Iron Co. said this afternoon: "Herschmann said this afternoon: "Herschmann had been employed by the company as cashier for about three years. For some time past he has been leading a very irregular life, and recently while he was devoting most of his time to drinking and dissipating, we began to examine his books to see if there was anything wrong. We found an entry which is faise. It amounts to about $1,000, but we are convinced that there are others. As yet we can form no estimate of the total amount. I know nothing of Hershmann's past or family relations. I have heard, though, that he is a Kentuckian."

Mrs. Katie Schmidt's Indecorous Con-duct Before Juige Claiborne.

The spectators in the Court of Crimina Correction were treated to a little scene to day that was not on the programme. Frank Schmidt and his wife Katie were on the docket charged with assault with intent to kill on Daniel Mitchell. Schmidt was locked up and his wife was out on bond. She appeared in court to-day in rather a jubilant state of mind and created a disturbance in the vicinity of the "cage" where the prisoners are kept while waiting for trial. Deputy Sherin Sheehe admonished her to keep quiet, but she continued the disturbance, when the deputy undertook to remove her from the courtroom. As the deputy was passing through the court-room with Mrs. Schmidt she began to dance, calling out: "Come on, hubby." The roar of laughter which followed was promptly silenced by the court officers, and Mrs. Schmidt was hustled down stairs and locked up in the hold-over to subside.

Although Contractor Charles B. McCormick has signed the union scale, the troubles between him and the union carpenters are between him and the union carpenters are not at an end. When the union men were ordered off his jobs, nine union men stuck to him and refused to go out. He signed it on condition that these men should not be fined by their unions and allowed to go back to work. The union refuses to lift the fine of the men, and until it does McCormick will refuse to discharge his non-union men. Dairymple, she said, had no interest in it, and as her husband took away with him all the money she had, she wanted the furniture to raise enough on to go to Chicago.

AGENTS BIDDING AS HIGH AS $10 PER THOUSAND.

Institutions With Long Pay-Rolls Forced to Resort to the Large Use of Silver-An Up-Town Bank Is Said to Have Paid 1 Per Cent for All Currency Received at a Big Retail Mercantile Establishment-Finance.

New York, Aug. 8.-The New York banks ave shut down on the shipment of currency to the interior. The scarcity of currency has become so great that agents were bidding a premium of $10 per thousand dollars to-day The institutions with large pay rolls have been compelled to resort largely to the use of fiver. An uptown bank is reported to have paid 1 per cent for all the currency received at a big retail mercantile establish Banks generally are requesting depositors

The inquiry for stocks in the loan crowd, hile not as brisk as on previous days of the week, was still large in the aggregate. The leading issues command a premium. and Northwest at 1 64. Good judges of the market say there is still a very short interest outstanding. They say there has been a perfect craze to go short of stocks for the past month, and the bulk of this remains to be covered. The Sterling Exchange was decidedly stronger to-day, with posted rates up to 4814 and 485. The demand for bills to cover gold importation was again heavy this morning, and accounts in a great measure for the strength of the market.

The advance in the Bank of England discount rate also affects the market and has a tendency to check the outflow of gold from London. Foreign bankers here thought the movement would let up for a time as the rise in the actual selling rates reduces the profit materially.

A few minutes before 5 o'clock this m A few minutes before 5 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the residence of Mr. H. Tully at 623 Blair avenue. Before the flames could be extinguished the building was completely gutted. The origin of the fire is a mystery that will give the insurance men an amount of trouble to unravel. There was no one in the house at the time the fire started nor had there been for a number o hours. The building is occupied down-stairs by Mr. Tully and family and up-stairs by his brother-in-law, Mr. sam Curtis. Mrs. Tully and the Curtises have been up at St. Paul for three weeks, and last evening Mr. Tully locked up the house and left for Chicage, intending to join his family up north later.

Mr. Tully had been sieeping in the house alone during the family "a beence and last night for the first time the house was deserted.

NOT AN ARTICLE LEFT The fire was discovered this morning by Mrs. Bailey, whose residence adjoins that of Mr. Tully on the north. She saw smore and flames issuing from the front windows stairs. Mr. Krenden, who lives on the so side, was awakened by the smell of smoke and tried to arouse him. Finding he could awaren no one he ran to the corner and turned on an alarm. They broke in the lower portion of the house and found it all in flame. A stairway between the front and back parlors had been burned completely out and was evidently in line with the spot where the fire started. After two hours' fighting the fire was extinguished. There was then left not a thing that would bring as much as 5 cents. All that remained of the parlor furniture was the iron rollers. The pictures, ornaments, books and parlor ornaments were burned to black ashes. Not one piece of furniture in the house was whole.

She attends all public functions, and does more mixing with the common people than any other member of the royal family. She has established a number of free schools and has many young men attending college at her expense. She takes particular interest, too, in the education of young women. # Mr. Green's Bill.

There was a short conference in the Mayor's office to-day, at which his Honor, Comptroller Sturgeon, Deputy Comptroller Gabel and Mr. Charles Green were present. Mr. Green wishes to ascertain the status of the city authorities on that bill of his for $12,000 for expenses and commissions for selling the old City Hall property in May for $12,000 for expenses and commissions selling the old City Hall property in May last.

The bill introduced in the City Council to repeal the ordinance authorizing the Mayor and Comptroller to sell certain city property, in which the old City Hall was included, passed the Council, but was pigeon-holed by a committee in the House of Delegates on the strength of an opinion from City Counselor Marshall that if it passed the city would have to pay Mr. Green his expenses and also his commissions, not on the contract, but on a quantum meruit at law, so that the original ordinance is still in force and the Mayor and Comptroller are empowered to order another sale at any time they may see it. Mr. Green stated this morning that he was perfectly willing to make another sale and charge no extra commissions for the same.

or the same.
The only anditional expense to be facurred vould be that for advertising it.
In the meantime he urged upon Mayor
Valbridge and the Comptroller the necessity f making some arrangements for paying im for the expenses incurred in advertising him for the expenses incurred in advertising the last sale.

He said he was being pushed for these bills, and as the City Counsellor had already decided that he was entitled to this money at all hazards, he thought it unjust on the city's part to withhold it. Mr. Sturgeon said that he had prepared a special ordinance to cover the amount, $6,000, and had it introduced in the Council, but for some reason it was lost in a committee room and never came before the members.

Unless some action is taken Mr. Green says he will be compelled to sue for the amount, and this will only entail an extra expense on the city, as there is really no defense to be made.

The Mayor and Committellar ware both of made.

The Mayor and Comptroller were both of the opinion that it was out of the question to order a re-sale at the present time, and agreed to endeavor to make some arrangements to meet the advertising bills for the last eale.

The Sanitary Company's Bill.

The Sanitary Company's Bill.

The St. Louis Sanitary Co. having sent in its statement to the Board of Health of the ammount of garbage reduced at their works from July 8 to July 15, both dates inclusive, when the city had no official weighers, the opinion of the City Counselor was asked on the question of accepting the sanitary company's figures.

The statement shows that between these dates there were 2,22,40 pounds reduced at the different factories, and these figures are sworn to by the weighers appointed by the Sanitary company.

City Counselor Marshall holds that as it was the city's fault that it did not have its own weighers at the company's works, it is in he position to take exception to the figures given by the company. If the board should refuse to accept them he holds that the Sanitary company could sue or the amount due on the above figures, and as the city could not disprove them, a judgment would surely be reasoned to the story in the country of the company.

pounds for all garbage reduced up to 100 tons per day, and all over that amount must be reduced free of cost by the Sanitary company. As the figures given by the company show that over 100 tons per day were rejuced during that period, the city has no alternative except to pay $180 per day during that time. The city now has its own official weighers at the works, who were recently appointed by Garbage Inspector Francis.

Got a Drinking Fountain.

A public drinking fountain which has recentiy been erected on the southwest corner of O'Fallon and Blair avenues has caused centiy been erected on the southwest corner of O'Falion and Blair avenues has caused considerable comment around the City Hall among those who keep posted on the doings of the Municipal Assembly. About three years ago an ordinance was passed to erect a fountain in front of Kessler's saloon and grocery on the northwest corner of these same streets. Then Mr. Jost, who runs a similar establishment to that of Kessler, thought he should have a drinking fountain also in front of his place. Delegate Cosgrove of the Tenth Ward undertook to engineer the bill through the Assembly. Ordinances to authorize Jost to construct a fountain on the southwest corner of O'Falion street and Biair avenue were defeated on three separate occasions by the last Assembly, the reason kiven by members refusing to vote for the bills being that there was a fountain already on the northwest corner, Accordingly Mr. Cosgrove put on his thinking cap and the result was the introduction of an ordinance granting to John K. Platt the privilege of erecting a public drinking fountain in front of No. 1233 Biair avenue. The members of both houses were hoodwinked, thinking the bill called for a fountain in an entirely different locality, whereas it is precisely the same. The bill passed, and in consequence the present fountain on the southwest corner was erected, not by Mr. John K. Platt, for he is a myth, but by Mr. F. W. Jost, in whose interests the former unsuccessful bills were introduced.

Patients at Tree View Farm Recovering From Their Ailments.

The Usual Progress After a Half Week's Stay in the Camp.

WEXT WEEK'S PARTY ORGANIZING FOR THE OCCUPATION OF THE TENTS.

Surprising Success of the Work in the Face of Predicted Failure-Farm House and Canvas Filled to the Limit With Children and Mothers-Mors Contributions From Warm Hearted Sympa this ra.

Half of the week is gone and nine-tenths of the work has been dene toward restoring the alling children admitted to Tree View Farm on Monday to health.

Another Monday will soon be here and will see the Harbor Boat fetching away the well ones after it has landed a new party of the sick at Elsah-the landing nearest the Summer Camp. The new party is being organized now. Every mother who has a sick child can obtain a ticket for herself and the little one on application to this office. That ticket will entitle her and her child to transportation and all the benefits of the camp free of charge. The whole expense is borne by the fund made up of generous persons' contributions a fund which is still growing.

Tickets that have not been presented at this office for registration and counter signature before faturday night will not be accepted on the boat Monday. This rule mus be enforced, as it is necessary to know in ad-must be provided. The capacity of the boat is limited and if that were not so, the camp is. In the beginning of this charity persons who had worked in the Children's Ald Society's sanitarium and country week features were confident that Tree View Farm house would be larger than would be needed for the accommodation of all the patients that could be induced to go. They knew that there were hundreds of sick children in the city who ought to go, but they had had so much experience with parents who made so many difficulties stand in the way of their children's good that they could not see the way to doing a large work.

the house and several tents were occupied the first week and each subsequent week the camp has been compelled to enlarge itself. Twenty-one large wall tents have been erected on the lawn for the sheltering of patients, and so securely were they set up that the high wind which last week tore branches off of trees and over turned tents in the Chuatauqua Valley had no effect upon them. They stood as firmly and were as dry within after the storm had passed as before. The children in the camp prefer to sleep in the tents. Some of the mothers-used to closed windows at night-fear colds will result if they sleep in tents, and the doctor and matron cannot change their minds.
Others are with the children in their tent love, and the result is the tents are full and the house is full of contented mothers and little ones. There are two tents far removed from the others in which suspicious cases are to be isolated, but happily these tents are vacant. Every precaution is taken to insure the healthfulness of the camp. A yard force is kept constantly at work cleaning the grounds; the use of the bath is encouraged in some instances and enforced in others There are boys at the camp as there are boys elsewhere, who rebel against water.

Dr. Temm's work has been lightened somewhat by the recovery of many patients who on Monday were very ill, but as there are veral extreme cases in the camp that only care for a long period may assist to cure, his days are by no means full of ease. He has the last of these he will return to the city THE CHILDREN'S CANDY FUND.

It costs thirty-five cents per week to keep three little St. Louis children in candy. They have directed their cashier to transmit the Candy Fund of one week to the Post-Dis-PATCH for the benefit of the Summer Camp. It arrived with the following note: To the Post-Dispatch:

We are three little children who are going to do without our candy a week to help send the little bables to "Place Eluffs."

RIVER COMMERCE OF ST. LOUIS. ARRIVED IN COURT TOO LATE.

Henry Latzel and His Witnesses Tarry and William Ever's Case Is Dismissed. An amusing occurrence was brought out to-day by a case being nolle prossed in the Court of Criminal Correction. William Ever, a barkeeper in Charles Luecke's saloon at Twenty second and North Market streets was being prosecuted by Henry Latzel for assault and battery. The parties got into a dispute on the night of July 21, in Luecke's saloon about a German military organization to which both belonged, and Ever is alleged to have assaulted Latzel, who swore out a warrant. When the case was called to-day no one appeared to prosecute and the case was noile prossed. Shortly after Latzel arrived at the court with his witnesses and was very much chagrined at finding the case dismissed. He and the witnesses started for the court this morning, but stopped at several saloons on the way and did not feel the time passing until they were too late. Latzel wanted to have the case recalled, but the court would not do so. in the Court Criminal Cor

she was engaged in rearranging the furniture in the parlor of Capt. Thomas T. Turner vs. residence at Normandy, where she is employed as housekeeper, is recovering from the wound which is now pronounced to be not of a dangerous nature. Capt. Turner was in the city to-day and expressed the Opinion that the injury was inflicted by some prowler who was crossing his thirty-acre lawn and that it was a random shot. "There has been no disposition," said the Captain, "to keep back the facts fo far as we are concerned. I reported the matter to Chief of Detectives Desmond, and he told me to keep quiet until he could see what he could do about catching the shooter. Mr. Desmond has since told me that he thinks it was an accident. I had been to Wells during the evening, listening to the music there, and when I returned found the family in great confusion, as it was leared Miss Bell was dangerously wounded. Tha facts, as I gathered them, were that Miss Bell had been in the city visiting some frineds and returned early in the evening. She was in the parlor with my col ored man, who had drivan her over from the station, and was having the man perform some service in arranging the room when a buillet passed through the woodwork of the window and hit Miss Bell in the shoulder. Neither she nor the man heard any report of the weapon, but the dogs were barking in the lawn, and the theory is that whoever fired the shot was crossing the lot when the dogs set upon him, and he fired at them. It has been stated that the carriage was followed from Normandy Station to the house by several men. The driver says that is not true. He saw one man on the road who was so drunk that he had to drive around him, but nothing was thought of that. We are completely at the mercy of drunken plenie parties, who go out to those stations. Many of the men are armed. Then, too, negroes from the settlement on the Fiorissant road often cross my place. It is nothing unusual to hear pistois fired, and, as I said, this was probably a wild shot." NOT HIS OWN LEGS.

Strange Idea of an In-sne Patient at the City Hospital. There is a man at the City Hospital who is thoroughly convinced that he has no head on his shoulders. He did have one once, but according to his own statement, since he be came insane he has lost his head. He used to have some legs, too, which belonged to him, but now his legs are some one else's him, but now his legs are some one else's property and when he wants them to walk one way the owner wants them to go another, and unless he agrees with the owner as to which way they shall go there is no end of trouble. Another toning that bothers him very much is that he does not know things now that he used to know without thinking; for example of. Marks will ask him: "Do you know who I am?"
"No," the patient replies. "I did know you once; you were Dr. Marks, but since I have been insane I have not the slightest idea who you are."
The man was at one time a very steady and well-educated locomotive engineer, but about two years ago he began to suffer from epileptic fits, which eventually unbalanced his mind.

western Railway came across several uppicate tickets of the World's Fair 32 issue that had come in from the superintendent's office. He took them up to General Passenger Agent Anderson and said the latter had better look after the printer. In turning out thousands of tickets the companies find the printers sometimes issue duplicates with the same number by mistake. It was supposed this was a printer's mistake until the Auditor, very much surprised, came up later with several more, and not long afterward he brought up a handfull of duplicate tickets, making more than twenty in all. There was evidently something wrong and they proceeded to examine the duplicates. At first sight they appeared to be alike. All of them were white strips of paper, with three wavy bine lines running lengthwise on the face and back. All of them had the Ontario & Western stamp of the Broadway office on the back in the same color of ink. The type used in printing the conditions and the days of the month on the face seemed on the closest inspection to be exactly similar. More than a dozen different fonts of type are used in the make up of the original. The neat heading, "Issued by the New York, Ontario & Western Maliroad Co.," on the last coupon, from Oswego to New York, was exactly alike on all the tickets, and the signature of J. C. Anderson did not differ by a bair's breadth. The punches seemed to have been used in indicating the date of issue. The blue strips used on them weps a trifle pale. On the notice to conductors the word "Culcago" was mispelled on all of the tickets with the paler strips reading on the latter "Colicoga." Besides several of the letters in the printing of these duplicates were not exactly on the line. The original ticket, therefore, with the exception of the type, seems to have been photographed and a plate made. The "conditions of travel" were set up afterward with regular type. Only the return portion of these coupon ickets seem to have been forged. There would have been much greater risk in imitating the whole cate tickets of the World's Fair $28 issue that had come in from the superintendent's stated above, there is not a sign to arouse suspicion.

General Eastern Agent Dunbar was hastily dispatched to 'Chicago on the fastest train out of New York the same day the bogus tickets were found. Pinkerton's agency was communicated with, and by the time that Dunbar reached Chicago the local detective bureau of that city was apprised of the facts and several men were put on the track. They watched the depots from which trains using the Ontario & Western tickets left and soon found out what scalpers' offices the tickets came from. The scalpers were the World's Columbian Water Commerce Congress at Chicago by George H. Morgan, Secretary of the Merchants' Exchange, on the commerce of the Mississippi River. Mr. Morgan laid much stress upon the advantages incident to the cheapness of water transportation. He showed that in the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission for 1890 it was stated that the average cost of earrying freight by rail was .941 cents per ton per mile. This is $11.29 for 1, 200 miles, the distance between $1. Louis and Boston, and also between $1. Louis and Boston, and also between $1. Louis and Boston, and also between $1. Louis and Freight by river per barges on grain in bulk from $1. Louis to New Orleans was $2.16 per ton and on grain in sacks $3.37 per ton. During the same year the average rate of freight on wheat per bushel from $1. Louis to Liverpool via river to New Orleans was $1.20 per bushel and from $1. Louis to Liverpool via river to New Orleans was 14 cents per bushel and from $1. Louis to Liverpool via river to New Orleans was 14 cents per bushel and from $1. Louis to Liverpool by rail to New York 21 cents per bushel.

Mr. Morgan states that there are no means at hand te ascertain definitely the amount in tons or the value in dollars of the commerce of the Mississippi for any given year. The magnitude of such an undertaking taxes it out of the limits of private or individual effort. But the following statements taken from the report of the Census Bureau and covering the year 1889 show in a wery practical manner the magnitude of the commerce of Western water-ways: Total vessels, 7,445; total tonnage, 3,333,578; value, $15,335,005. The traffic account was as follows: Passengers carried, 10,838,544; tons of freight moved, 29,405,046; miles traveled, 7,316,545. The amount of grain shipped by river from this port in 1892 was 8,414,940 bushels. The total receipts by rail in St. Louis during 1892 aggregated 11,-229,000 tons; by river, 692,215 tons. Arr. Morgan predicted that with the improvement of the river the amount of traffic would very largely increase. the report of the Interstate Commerce Com-mission for 1890 it was stated that the aver

The owners of the cattle assert the fever is caused by infection in pasture which was left there a year ago at the time the contagion did so much damage to domestic cattle in that vicinity. Last spring several carloads of Texas cattle, enroute to Chase County, were held by neighboring stockmen at this point, the stockmen fearing a repetition of the contagion suffered a year before. The stockmen armed themselves with rifles and made a determined stand, but were finally persuaded by the State authorities to desist. It is among these cattle the disease has made its appearance.

A FALSE STEP.

The pernicious influence of the proectionists in the deliberations of the Chicago Bimetallic Congress is shown in the plank of the platform adopted, which offers an apologetic defense of the Sherman law, and a demand for its continuance until a free coinage measure is adopted.

No sincere bimetallist can have a word to say in defense of that vicious measure. It is a confessed trick of the monometallists. It has given monometallists the nub of their argument against silver coinage under any conditions. This law has not merely degraded silver to the basis of a commodity makeshift, but as enforced by the Government it has made the silver purchases liabilities against the gold redistinction of being the only railroads that sources of the Government, thus rendering silver money a menace to prosperity and giving ground for the charge that all of our woes are due to it. When bimetalby a Cincinnati newspaper are not met by lists stand by an act so hostile to bimetala libel suit, but by what seems to be a lism and so inimical to the interests of their country in order to force terms upon Congress they give occasion for suspicion that their motives are not patriotic or disinter-

The silver producing States and Territories turned out last year 57,059,856 ounce of silver, about one-half the total of the world's supply. These States have a population of a little more than 1,000,000 and cast thirteen electoral votes.

The interest of the silver producers is precisely that of the producers of other commodities. They want to find a market for their wares on the best terms and therefore any claim made by them is subcare to buy what everybody may take with- ject to suspicion as coming from an interested party.

The people of the West cannot afford to exchange one yoke for another. Nor can they afford to accept the declamation of partisans on either side. What they want is an honest dollar of unchanging value with which to pay their debts, and they cannot expect to get this without a careful examination of both sides of a controversy the heat and bitterness of which is supplied by interested parties. In this as in all other things reason, not passion, should dictate policies.

POLITICS AND BUSINESS.

The Indianapolis News, which twice lovally supported Mr. Harrison for the Presidency, is not in sympathy with that gentleman in his captious criticism of the Cleveland Administration and condemns partisanship when purely business questions are up for discussion. "It cannot help seeing that it is a very bad condition of things when business is dependent upon politics and when our industrial interests are uncertain whether Congress is going to allow them to mark up their goods 50 or 100 per cent. It is clear that manufacturers will not invest heavily in raw material now if they can buy it 75 per cent cheaper six months hence."

These are the words of true patriotism and economic wisdom. Beside the silver legislation, which, the News insists with all others, must come first in point of time, there remains the question of taxation for the benefit of privileged classed to be considered. And in the paragraph quoted the case for the people is put as in a nutshell. There has been so much interference with private affairs by the Government that a belief has grown up and taken strong hold upon many intelligent persons that business cannot be prosperous unless assisted by legislation. We are kept in a state of nonage by a well meaning but meddlesome papa Government, which "protect" every interest the ordinary chances industrial strife. This of itself is enough to weaken the spirit of self-reliance which was once the most prominent characteristic of Americans. But more than this. as the News suggests, the never quieted uncertainty as to "what Congress is going to do" keeps the business community on the anxious seat and discourages the enterprising spirit which would otherwise be fully and usefully employed.

The reform indicated by the Democratic platform, which demands a tariff for revenge only, will set business free from the pamperimg protection of Government and from the agonizing uncertainties of legismunicipal authorities to seize, pen up, lative action. Both of these are vicious and destructive. Business must be divorced from politics and business men must be made to stand upon their merits or fall upon their demerits. complicate the subject. Prejudice is giving way to reason and common sense, and trallan sheet, the Telegaph of Sydney. WHEN the market is rising a strike has some chance of success, but on a falling market it is sure to fail. The history of labor does not afford a single exception to this rule, which labor unions and workingmen seem never to have learned. Those who strike now will do themselves no good, while in many cases their action will be just what their employers want. When profits are low and orders uncertain an excuse to shut down is very welcome.

THE reduction in the working force of the Waltham and Elgin watch companies cannot be attributed to uncertainty in the tariff outlook but is the direct and speedy result of the general depression. Watches are not exactly luxuries, but to most men they are not absolute necessaries. When policy of economy is adopted the purchase of a watch is postponed until a more onvenient season.

To the Editor of the Post-Rispatch: As supplementary to the article you published last Sunday under the head "A Single Tax Law," and whichthrows considerable light on industrial and bolal conditions now prevailing in New Zealad, please permit me to offer an excerpt from a letter of recent South Wales. can come of advocating a policy not for its worth, but because it bears a worn-out party label. The legislation of the immediate future, if it is to be beneficent, must consist in taking the Government out of business and business out of politics.

Says the Chicago Dispatch: "Why any one should stay in St. Louis is one of those mysteries which pass understanding. If the railroad rates are too high the walking is all right at this season of the year." It need be a very little mystery indeed to pass the Chicago understanding. People stay in St. Louis because it is a pleasant sum-

PENSIONS FRAUDS.

Commissioner Lochren's Many Reason for Not Exposing Them.

HIS RIGH OPINION OF HIS OLD COM-RADES IN ARMS.

e Believes in the General Honesty of the Soldier and Does Not Think Many of Them Would Intentionally Defraud the Government-His Long Communica

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 8 .- Commissioner Lochren has addressed the following letter to the editor of the National Tribune:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, BUREAU OF PENSIONS, WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 1, 1893, OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER. OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER. J
SIR—I have not compiled with your repeated request that I should cause a test to be made to show the number of fraudulent pensions, by having I,000 cases drawn from the admitted files and examined. I have not done this for several reasons.

1. Fraudulent cases, if any exist, cannot be discovered in that way. A fraudulent pension must ordinarily have been obtained on false testimony. On the face of the papers such a case would probably appear to be established and incontestable.

2. No one whose opinion is entitled to con-on false testimony. On the face of the papers such a case would probably appear to be established and incontestable.

2. Noone whose opinion is entitled to consideration has, as I think, had the hardihood to claim that the great mass of adjudicated pension cases is permeated with fraud, open and plain on the papers, so that the admission of 1,000 cases would disclose an instance. And I certainly have too high an opinion of my old comrades to believe that any large number of them are soundrels, who have sought and obtained pensions dishonestly. Especially I believe that the pensions granted to soldiers who did actual service in the field, on account of disabilities of service origin are usually honest, and well deserved. No doubt rests on this class of cases, and no examinations of them are being made, except where evidence is introduced tending to show that some particular case is fraudulent or has been improperly tried. Even among the twelve apostles there was one who was unworthy, and among the brave and true soldiers of the Union army it cannot be denied that there were a few bounty jumpers and men who were of no credit to us and little deserving, and who have been perhaps among the most eager for a place on the pension roil at a high rating. The investigations as to the work of dishonest pension attorneys in Norfolk, New Mexico and Iowa, show local frauds of large extent. But it would be far from fair to couclude from such cases that pension attorneys are generally unscrupulous or dishonest. I think, on the contrary, they are ordinarily honest, painstaking and careful as other business men. A case of alleged fraud is brought to the notice of the bureau by information from some source. If the information is indefinite and appears to be prompted by mallice it is disregarded. If it seems to be trustworthy the case is investigated, the pension being suspended during the investigation according to the uniform practice of the bureau from the beginning.

prompted by malice it is disregarded. If it seems to be trustworthy the case is investigated, the pension being suspended. If it seems to be trustworthy the case is investigated, the pension being suspended during the investigation according to the uniform practice of the bureau from the beginning, if the pension is improper it should not be paid; if not shown to be improper the suspended pension is all paid and the suspension list insures the active co-operation of the pensioner in furnishing evidence and reaching aspeady result.

3. The examination of the June 27, 1890, cases is not made, not because of any fraud on the part of the claimants, but because it was discovered that this bureau had, by the adoption of an erroneous rule for adjudication, allowed many pensions not authorized by law. Under prior laws pensions were only granted on account of disabilities of service origin. And the acts of Congress had in many cases fixed specific rates of pension for designated injuries or disabilities of a permanent character proportionate ratings should be allowed, and under this provision the commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary. has fixed schedule rates for such inferior disabilities of service origin. As I said before, all pensions granted under these former laws are presumed to shave been properly granted, and they are not being examined except on information showing fraud in some particular case, as has always been the practice. But the act of June 27, 1830, granted pensions to persons who had served ninety days or more, suffering from a physical disability of a permanent character, not the socuit of their own vicious habits, incapacitating them from the performance of manual labor in such a degree as to render them unable to earn a support—such pensions not to exceed $12, nor be less than $6 per month, proportioned to the disability to earn of such proportioned to the disability to earn of such proportioned to the disability to earn of such to earn of the proportioned to the disability to earn of su such a degree as to render them unable to earn a support-such pensions not to exceed $12, nor be less than $6 per month, proportioned to the disability to earn a support by manual labor. Under this act the disability need not be of service origin; but to be pensionable at all, the disability must incapacitate the person from manual labor so as to render him unable to earn a support. Specific disabilities, as such, were not pensionable disabilities, as such, were not pensionable at all under that act, nor entitled to consideration except as they might affect the capacity to perform manual labor. But by order 164, issued Oct. 15, 1890, the Commissioner, with the approval of the Assistant Secretary, directed that specific disabilities should be rated under this act, the same as they would have been rated under prior laws had the disabilities been of service origin, up to 512 per month. The effect of this order was shown in the Bennett case, which called attention to it. There the claimant, applying under this act of June 27, 1830, was allowed a pension of 512 per month for slight deafness, not of service origin, and which manifestly would scarcely interfere with his capacity to perform mangin, and which manifestly would scarcely interfere with his capacity to perform manual labor. On inquiry, the medical referee reported that acting under this order 184, the canacity of a claimant, under the act of June 27, 1890, to perform manual labor was not considered in adjudicating the claim. It was clear, therefore, that under that order the law was disregarded, with the necessary result of granting some pensions, like that to Bennett, which was not authorized by any law. A board of revision was therefore constituted of the ablest and most experienced men of the bureau, to re-examine these cases and cull out such as had no legal basis to rest upon; and with instructions

It is clearly the duty of every official having charge of administration of the pension laws to enforce those laws fairly, and to stop such pensions as clearly appear to have been granted without euthority of any law. This is all that is being done here. No one disputes the correctness of the decision in the Bennett case. It now appears that Assistant Secretary Bussey, in January last, rendered a decision in the case of Henry H. Welke, announcing precisely the same interpretation of the act of June 27, 1880, and condemning the construction given by the bureau to order 164, as contrary to his understanding when he approved that order and as contrary to law. My old comrades may feel sure of receiving everything to which the law—most liberality con-Revision whose ability fitted them for it, though most of them, with their chief, are Repubblicans. If that was the class of cases you wish drawn up examined, the work is done every day by this board. None of the pensions in these cases are suspended until after condemnation by this board. It is expected that in very many of such cases the pensioners will be able to produce testimony showing them entitled to pensions under the law, in which case the suspension will be

A Hot Weather Dress for Man. From the Boston Transcript. The recent hot weather revealed the extraordinary helplessness of our "men folks" in the matter of hot weather clothing carcely one man in fifty, even of those who attempted it, had any measure of success at all in dressing for the heat. The commonest recourse is a straw hat, a seersucker suit and a chevict shirt. This dress is objectionable from so many points of view that few men will ever wear it. Besides being hideous in appearance, seersucker has no resisting power whatever against a sudden wind or a shower. The old-fashioned linen suits were better, but they involved a great deal of laundring, and laundring nowadays is extremely expensive. Besides linen suits had a sad tendency to bag and get out of shape. The Listener met a friend who had on a suit of clothes which seemed to solve the problem. He said the was made of Russian hemp, and was woven by the Russian peasantry. It was as course as burlap, but had a better attempted it, had any measure of success at and was woven by the Russian peasantry. It was as course as burlap, but had a better color and more solid texture, and kept its shape, the were averred, vastly better than a linen suit does. It could be washed as readly as a linen suit, but does not need washing nearly as often. It looked exceedingly well, and was as coll as linen without being so useless in bad weather. Let us all have Russian hemp.

How to Look Cool Suddenly.

From the Atlanta Constitution.

If you come in after a long round of shopparlor to meet some unexpected guest do not be dismayed at the crimson face which meets your eye as you stand before the dressing table mirror. Likewise do not seek a remedy in the bath room. Many women think the only way to cool off is to bathe the face lavishly in cold water. This is a great mistake, and, with a thin skin, will only intensify the color, and the last state of this woman shall be worse than the first.

will only interest, state of this woman shall be worse than the first.

Dash the water on the throat and neck as freely as you choose, particularly at the back of the neck, but if the face is bathed at all let it be done sparingly, then sponge with Florida water and lastly apply a generous coating of rich powder. You will look ghastly, but let the powder remain while you add the few hecessary touches to your foilet. Then just as you are to descend to the parlor dust off all superfluous powder lightly and you will welcome your guest fresh and cool, not only in appearance but in reality.

is past history. Suffice it to call to mind that he paid an enormous sum for the property and promptly set himself to work to fashlon it according to his own will. His first step was to appoint as celtor a clever young member of Parliament named Harry Cust, fresh from Cambridge, with strong party views and of considerable social standing, as the possible heir of the Earl of Brownlow, whose kinsman he is.

He then looked for new premises and found some far removed from Fleet street, the Park row of Loudon. These he has fitted up with every modern improvement.

The discipline of the office could not be excelled in any Government establishment, and in a marvelously short time the whole place has shaken down to strict business. This is due in a great degree to Mr. Astor himself. He has apparently chosen his lleutenants, and then leaves them to do their work. This does not mean that he keeps aloof from the office. On the contrary, he is always there, and, as a rule, sees a proof of the first edition.

Mr. Astor, it must be understood, has not in any way joined the newspaper world, and evinces no desire to do so, not even in its innermost sacred circles made up of editors of great daily papers and the immortals who write the beloved stry leaders, of which Englishmen are so proud and which they never by any chance read.

It remains to be proved as to the financial results of Mr. Astor's new departure, and be it understood, he quite expects it to he a commercial success and treats it as a business venture and not as a fad.

One of the interesting features in connection with Mr. Astor's descent on London is that, outside a little charmed circle, his name is absolutely unknown. In no other city in the world could a man have taken the position he has in London and yet be unknown to the masses. Beyond a few curt paragraphs, the press have taken no notice of him, and this in the face of his having bought one of the oldest and best known of London papers and taking an active part in its management.

This is only another example of the mag-

This is only another example of the mag-nificent indifference of London to everyone and everything. It is, however, only fair to Mr. Astor to say that not only does he not court notoriety, but he absolutely shuns it.

Our Financial Distress Not Caused by the Government's Policy.

COLUMBUS. O., Aug. 8.—The following is an interview with ex Senator Allen G. Thurman on the financial stringency and its remedy: "It is not right to say this distress is cause by the Government's policy. Every nation in Europe and Asia is suffering from the same causes. I do not see how Congress is to help the situation at all," said Mr. Thurman. "Do you think Congress will repeal the Sherman silver purchase act?" was asked

"It will not be done without a hard fight, but I am inclined to believe that it will ulti-mately be repealed. It is my opinion, how-ever, that such legislation would be harmful under the present conditions rather than beneficial. I cannot see how a lack of money can be immediately relieved by cutting out a part of that which we already have. People are not hoarding any particular kind of money now. They are hoarding all kinds of it. There is no gold in daily circulation here now. I have not received any in change for many months. They want coin gold to take the place of silver if they do strike silver from coinage. "Don't you think it would be dangerous policy for this government to go on coming silver dollars that are really worth, as compared with the gold dollars, not much re than 50 cents?"

"I do not see it so. I know that is the goldbug cry; but I cannot believe that the danger of possible loss from this source seems threatening enough to the average business man to cause him to fear to accept the silver dollar. I expect to see the business world slowly emerge from its financial trouble. Perhaps no one thing will bring better times, as no one thing produced the present un fortunate condition. No doubt an enormou retching of credits-a thing that is likely to happen to a prosperous people—has had a great deal to do with starting this care. It will pass and the damage will not be great. There is just as much money in the country as ever, or practically so. It has simply gone into hiding. As soon as the uneasy feeling can be allayed the financial stringency will be at an end, for the money rill come out again. LEWELLING SPEAKS.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 8.—The following, from Gov. Lewelling, was made public last night: "The Sherman law, as at present construed, is a vicious measure in the interests of a gold standard. Contrary to the wish and the expectation of the American recollection in the law has been violated by redeem. ople, the law has been violated by redeem ing sliver certificates immediately by their reissue in gold instead of silver. This gives us no more money, but drains the treasury of gold to store silver bullion. The demand for the unconditional repeal of the law is for the purpose of forcing this country to an absolute gold basis in the interest of money speculators to the destruction and bank ruprey of our mechanical and agricultural classes and business interests. It should be repealed only upon the condition of restoring silver to its standing prior to 1878 both as to free coinage and legal tender quality to any amount. If not repealed it should be amended, making certificates full legal tender and redeemable in silver only. Any other course will continue the present trouble and bring further disaster." sue in gold instead of silver. This gives Much excitement was caused by a cable message sxcitement was caused by a cable message saying Mexico was to suspend silver coinage. In this event China would establish a national coinage, as she has a mint at Canton fully equipped for issuing dollars. In Japan the result has been equally disastrous. Post-Disparch.

Now that the Minnetonka contest has been carried to a successful close, the Post-DISPATCH has been quick to add another interesting feature to its want department. Every want advertiser, be the ad large or small, will receive a ticket of admission to the great pyrotechnical show at the new Sportsman's Park—the Bombardment of Fort Sumter. The first exhibition will be given Saturday night, and each night thereafter for several weeks. In addition to the bombardment features this exhibition will have features akin to Bolossy Kiralfy's great "Fall of Babylon," now on at Mannattan Beach, About 300 young women will take part in the spectacular drills and dances, Don't forget that you can see all this if you put a want ad. in the Post-Dispatch, and acrobats, contortionists, fancy dancers and gorgeous scenery will add to the at-

The most interesting features of the parade will consist of fifteen floats, representing scenes, incidents and actions in the War of the Rebellion. Among the subjects depicted will be "Our Country," "Fort Sumter," "The Monitor and the Merrimac," and other striking illustrations taken from that period during which the nation was going through the overtures of the first exhibition will be Saturday night, and it is the intention of the management to continue the show every night thereafter for forty-eight nights. The grounds have been arranged for the exhibition, and a surprise awaits the base ball enthusiasts who have so often watched the fless of the Browns go saffing over the clear expanse of the field. Now instead are the rolling waves of the Atlantic, with a full moon throwing a ghost-like light on the turrets of Fort Sumter in the distance.

The Navahoe Proves of Little Worth in s Stiff Preeze.

LONDON, Aug. 3.-The yacht race for the Town Prize of £100, open to yachts of over thirty tons, took place to-day. The course covered a distance of fifty miles. The start was made from Cowes, Isle of Wight, and the yachts sailed twice to and around the Warner light ship and back. the yachts sailed twice to and around the Warner light ship and back. When the starting gun was fired at 10 o'clock the Satanita and Valkyrie were well under way and practically crossed the line together. The American Yacht Navahoe fellowed them closely, and she in turn was followed close up by the Calluna. A strong westerly wind was blowing and constantly gaining in force. Just after the start it gained a sudden accession of strength and blew a whole gale. The Navahoe got the best position to windward and retained this advantage until Leep Sheal was reached. At this point the observers on shore saw her suddenly keel over until her rail was well under and every body thought she was going to turn completely over. Her mainshet was played out completely and she soon righted. She made a second attempt to catch up with the leaders, but her mainsail fell. After a little delay and apparently much excitement on board the main sail was again holsted, as well as could be done under the circumstances, and under considerable reef the Navahoe headed up for Southampton water, evidently going to Southampton water, evidently going to Southampton ior repairs. It is stated that the Navahoe is at full liberty to alter her center board if Mr. Carroll, her owner, pleases. The yachtsmen who have been watching the performances of the Navahoe with critical eyes are now emphatic in their opinion that she is useless in a stiff breeze. The advocates of the superiority of English built racers are much elated at the poor showing of the Navahoe in to-day's gale.

The Calluna also met with an accident. She fouled the steam yacht Cleopatra shortly after passing Leep Shoal and broke her gaff and tore her main sail. She was, therefore, compelled to give up the contest.

framps Robbing Farmers and the Iron

Mountain Railroad. The number of tramps who infest the Iron lountain Raffroad Yards at Ivory Station is steadily increasing and so bold have they ecome by reason of their numbers and the insufficient force at the disposal of the ounty authorities that they no longer wait ers' fruit and chickens. The country around Ivory is very indignant and the farmers threaten to arus themselves and go down to the railroad yards in a body for the purpose of ridding themselves of these undesirable neighbers or arresting some of them. The farmers are not the only sufferers by the depredations of this army of tramps. The iron Mountain Railroad Co. has been systematically robbed and the stolen goods taken from freight trains while passing through the yards or standing at ivory Station, have been extried off in skiffs and disposed of in the river towns. Several farmers, receasily held up while returning from market and robbed of the money received for their produce, attribute the robbery to the same training.

The young man who is shought to have day, from a letter left on the bank addressed to Mr. Eaton of Hignland, Ill., is thought to be 18-year-old Frank Eaton, who has been missing fer several days. The body has not been found, and there is no proof that he has taken his life beyond the statement in the letter to his father.

WHY LETTERS ARE DELAYED. ostmaster Harlow's Statement Concern

ing the Principal Cause. The records of the St. Louis Post-office show that by far the greater number of let-ters that are not promptly delivered are delayed by reason of imperfect direction. Several complaints of delays have been made lately which on examination proved to be ascribable to this fact. Postmaster Harlow, in speaking of the matter, said that every in speaking of the matter, said that every effort was made to ascertain the address as soon as possible, but that sometimes a delay of a day would occur when the number was either omitted or not properly given. Many firms and corporations have names closely resembling each other, and letter-writers are very apt to be careless in giving the exact title. He advises all who write letters the prompt delivery of which is important, to be careful to place upon the onvelope the proper address.

On Friday there was $250,000 offered on the Exchange, Saturday being a holiday no offers were made. On Monday $108,000 was offered and each day since the offerings have exceeded $70,000. Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreahing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headsches and fevera and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manifactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute it effects.

104 North Tenth Street. MONEY TO LOAN ON REAL ESTATE. PERSECUTED ARMENIANA

feeting to Take Steps for the Bettering of Their Condition. LONDON, Aug. 8 .- A meeting of the Anglo-Armenian Association was held in this city last night to take a ction in regard to the per-secution of Armenians by Turkish officials. Francis Seymour Stevenson, M. P. for the Suffolk division and Francis A. Channing, who represents East Northamptonshire in Parliament, moved the adoption of a resolu-ion denouncing the manner in which thetrials tion denouncing the manner in which the trials of the accused Armenians were conducted and the subsequent execution of five of the prisoners. After the resolution had been approved an appeal was drawn up calling upon the Government to use every effort in behalf of the Armenians who are still in prison and who are doomed to sufferings worse than death. The Government is also asked to approach the powers with the view of forming an international commission to inquire into and report upon the condition of the Armenians now in Turkish jails. All the speakers severely criticised the English Government for the alleged half-hearted manner in which it has acted in the matter.

SURDUING THE DAHOMEYANS.

PARIS, Aug. 3.—Advices from Port Onovo show that although Behansen, the deposed King of Dahomey, promised to submit himself to the commander of the French forces on July 25, he aid not appear. His followers, it is said, are persuading him to renew his resistance to the French. Gen. Dodds, Commander in-Chief of the French forces in Dahomey, who arrived at St. Louis, Senegal, from France a short time ago, started yesterday for Port Onovo. It is his intention to lead an other expeditionagainst the Dahomeyans in September.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 3.—Bank managers here take a very cheerful view of affairs. They say debtors are paying up without trouble as fast as notes fall due and the National Bank of Mexico shows a gain of over a $1,000,000 in cash as compared with its over a $1,000,000 in cash as compared with its statement a month ago. This bank is paying its semi-annual dividend of 7 per cent and the Bank of London is paying 8½ per cent yearly. Continued good reports from the crops add strength to the situation. The London Statistics' statement that the area of cultivation this year has not been increased is erroneous, a much larger amount of land being under cultivation than in any previous year. It is believed the Government can get on without making any new foreign loan.

REPULSED BY RAWSON. Valparaiso, Chili, Aug. 3.—News was re-selved last night that Gen. Rawson repulsed

the forces at Plata, commanded by Gen. Costa, Governor of the Province of Buenos # Ayres, but details of the engagements have not been obtained. It is reported that 100 men were killed and 300 wounded during the fight from lighting in and around Rosarie in the Province of Santa Fe. The previous Governor of that province has assumed control.

Silver Certificates. WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 8 .- No more silve certificates will be issued by the Treasury Department for the present, as the limit precribed by law has been reached—that is, today as many silver certificates are now out-standing as there are standard silver dollars day as many silver certificates are now outstanding as there are standard silver dollars coined and in the Treasury to redeem them. Under the Bland act 389,886,874 standard silver dollars have been coined. The reduction in the number of silver dollars in the Treasury has been brought about by the large demand recently for silver dollars from the South to move the crops in Georgia and the Carolinas and to pay off hands at work on the cotton crop.

United States Treasurer Morgan, in a circular on the subject, says: "Silver dollars can be furnished only for certificates deposited for exchange or in return for those. Halves, quarters and dimes can be furnished in the place of dollars in sums of $200, or more, free or charge for expressage, or by registered mail in sums or multiples of $50 free for drafts collectible at Washington or any of the Sub-Treasury cities, namely: New York, Boston, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans or San Francisco, or for a deposit of currency by any correspondent in said cities. The coin will be sent from the nearest sub-treasury and drafts in payment therefor should be drawn to the order of the United States Treasurer and sent directly to the office named therein.

the officers of the boat to overtake the whale if it was possible for wood, steel and steam to do so.

Word was sent to the engine-room, and in a few moments it was plainly noticeable that the crack boat of the Pacific had got an extra move on herself, and in about five minutes it was clear she was gaining on the whale. About one mile south of Robinson's Point the whale put on an extra spurtor speed, and for a minute or so gained a little on the boat, but if evidently was only a spurt, for the boat again gained. When Hobinson's Point was reached the whale took the inside course, and it was feared it would run ashore and so end the race. To prevent this the Flyer kept off shore so as to allow it plenty of sea-room in rounding the point. By reason of taking the outside course after the point was rounded, the whale had gained considerably on the boat, but it was evident from the erratic movements of the leviathan that it was fast becoming tired out, and that it would be only a matter of a few miles more when the monster would have to acknowledge defeat. About half a mile from Pulley Point the whale had boat were slide by side, and the excitement among the passengers was intense. Bets which at the beginning of the race were offered that the whale would do up the boat, were all withdrawn, and no one could be found who would risk ilectate on his whaleship. When Pulley Point was passed the boat was ahead fully six lengths, and five minutes after passing the Point the greatest race on record was ended, the man had constructed to sail on top of the water a boat that could outrun the swifest denizens of the deep.

danger upless the poisonous fangs are extracted. It is almost impossible to charm or rather drug, some spaces of snakes so that they can always be depended upon. They are a treacherous set, and more so when they have the poisonous fangs in their mouth. They know right away when these fangs have been extracted. They seem to lose their pride and fercetty and they will try to sheak away rather than to offer defiance. I have known the fiercest diamond-back ever brought from Florida cool down as tame as a lamb when its poison fang was taken tout. Shost of the snakes handled by charmers on the stage are harmiess so far as poisoning any one is concerned. It should be a crime, too, to let those with the fangs in be exhibited. "What are the secrets of snake charming? Oh, well, they are simple—simpler than the stage of the danger upless the poisonous fangs are ex-tracted. It is almost impossible to charm,

Mr. Gentile Bought an Indian Boy for

From the Chicage Tribuns.
. *Here is the best investment I ever made in my life," said C. Gentile in room 134 of the Grand Pacific Hotel yesterday afternoon, as he took the extended hand of a stalwart ing man, dressed in exquisite taste, with young man, dressed in exquisite taste, with the features of the American Indian, and introduced the young man as Dr. Carlos Montezuma. "One would not think I bought the doctor for $30. He was but five years of age then. It was in the summer of 1871. I was prospecting in Arizona, taking photographs of Indians and Aztec ruins and gathering curiosities. One day a band of Pimos Indians came into my den with this handsome fellow here, but he was not haddsome then. He was painted in giaring colors with rows of beads around his neck. I took a fancy to him as a genulne-live curiosity. The Pimos wanted $30 for him. I tried to beat them down, but they insisted on their price and I gave it. The little chap cried for aday or two, thinking I was going to kill him. and be laughs now when he explains that he took me for the devil.

"I gave him his name." said Mr. Gentile. "Montezuma was suggested by the ruins of that region, and, as the Apaches spoke a little Spanish, I called him Carlos, the Spanish equivalent of my given hame Charles." Dr. Montezuma says his life will be dedicated to the service of the Indians, and he will never be perfectly satisfied until the Government properly educates the young of his people. the features of the American Indian, and in-native to Australia, are being largely used for paving carriageways in England, and especially in London, where the heavy traffic is most trying to the lasting qualities of pavements. The whole breadth of the road is first covered with a layer of cement concrete instead of sand, six inches deep and crete instead of sand, six inches deep and arched to the necessary convexity. On the top of this the wooden blocks are laid. The supperiness after showers which the hardhess of the wood entails is remedied by a sprinkling of sand, and in dry weather the horse shod with a flat shoe finds as good footing as on other pavements.

These Australian woods are found to last at least four times as long as the wood heretofore used. The first cost of paving a street with these blocks in Melbourne ranges from $2.46 per square yard for karri to $2.40 for larran, which does not include the concrete of the cost of exavation, laying and grouting. If transportation were cheap enough the same pavements could be laid down in this country for not much more money, and it is suggested that most of the vessels taking American product to Australia would be glid to get cargoes of karri or jarran to bring back and would probably be willing to do it at a low rate.

Cattle—The native market was very quiet, 1,280 to 1,299 the steers soid at $3.90. but Texas cattle were attracting about all the attention of buyers. There was 91 car loads in the Texas department that was active, but without any material change in prices. However, there was a market improvement in the tone and more confidence; everything sold steady and at good value, as compared with other markets of the country.

Address by Gov. NcKinley on the Life and Work of Hayes.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 8 .- "National Day" at Lake Side, as observed yesterday, was most enjoyable, the event of the occasion life, work and character of the late President

The great auditorium was filled at the hour appointed for the opening exercises. Gov. McKinley was most enthusiastically greeted McKinley was most enthusiastically greeted as he arose to begin. The speaker reviewed at length President Hayes' political career and called attention to the fact that while in college he manifested an aversion to political preferment until he had reached the age of 40. The speaker then sketched briefly the ex-President's honorable career in the army, and also recited the fact of his re-election as Governor of his State three times, having in 1875 led the fight for honest money.

MAY FIGHT A DUEL. Belligerent Editor Awaiting the Challenge of His Enemy.

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 8 .- Thos. Fortune, AEWARK, N. J., Aug. 5.—Thos. Fortune, editor of the Colored Age, and Col. Wm. Murrell, editor of the New Jersey Trumpet, may fight a duel because of the board walks at Asbury Park. The Colonel came to this city Tuesday from Asbury Park to publish his paper, and he had a great deal to say about Editor Fortune. The latter had commented rather severely on the fact. Murrell sup-rather severely on the fact. Murrell supported Founder Bradley in his attitude toward the colored people. Col. Murrell told a friend he had written a stinging reply to Mr. Fortune's remarks, and then read the article to him. Mr. Fortune heard of this, and the Colonel's verbal comment on his editorial was quickly replied to.

"He sent word," said Col. Murrell, "that if I published the editorial he would challenge me to a duel. Well, I'll give him the chance. I fought a duel in New Orleans while I was a member of the Louisiana Legislature, from 1870 to 1880, and I fight in the good old Southern style—shooting, and plenty of buckshot. I want to choose the weapons, and we'll hire a flatbeat and go out into the river and fight."

He says he will await in his office the visit of Fortune's second.

Mr. Joseph D. Lucas caught a very strange looking fish the other day in a pond at his country place, Goodwood, St. Louis Co. It has a head and tail like a catfish, bat has four has a head and tail like a cathsh, bat has four feet and a sort of ears, consisting of three prongs or horns, each with a sort of fuz or hair on it. The fish was about eight or nine inches long and was caught with a hook. Nothing like it has ever been seen in this section of the country.
